

Student Legislature Report Senate Announces Office Hours

MSC students can now take their problems and questions directly to the Student Senate during each class day.

During Senate room office hours from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., a senator will be present to confer with other students.

Constitutions from the Book Club and Dialogue have been submitted for Senate approval. In other organization business before the Senate at its last session, the state constitution of MISL, Missouri Intercollegiate State Legislature, was approved.

The Senate passed a motion by "Who's Who" committee heads to release the names of students selected for publication in the Northwest Missourian instead of waiting for their appearance in the Tower.

In other Senate business, Senator Betsy Thompson gave a resume of the plans being made for Tower queen selection.

Senator Bob Brunker introduced the possibility of getting of a clock for the student lounge of Colden Hall.

Vice president Steve Conner suggested that Senators look for signs posted on campus without Senate approval. Those without the appropriate stamp should be taken down.

In final Senate business, President Tom Frank advised the student legislators to be thinking about election of officers. The nominating convention must be held between Mar. 1 and Apr. 8, he explained.

Cast Needs 'Bedelia'

The MSC drama department is in search of the music to the song "Bedelia," which is to be used in the production of "Ah, Wilderness" in March.

Any help in the location of this music will be greatly appreciated. Information about the music should be reported to Dr. Ralph Fulson, chairman of the department of speech and drama.

High School Seniors Get Insight Into Northwest State Program

Ready to Go Collegiate

Have you noticed the alert looking young men and women who have been visiting on campus lately?

These young people are participants in the Third annual District High School Ambassador's Program sponsored by Northwest State to encourage students to join the college community. For six weeks groups of weekend guests from Northwest Missouri high schools will be guests on campus.

The Ambassador program, instituted by President Robert P. Foster, is coordinated by the Field Service Office.

Hosts last weekend for the third group "Ambassadors" were the Sigma Sigma Sorority and the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. Each of the social organizations takes turns being official hosts and hostesses to these young people.

Forty-three students arrived on campus last Thursday afternoon. They were greeted by Mr. Ed Fuhrman, assistant director of Field Service, and Miss Connie Diehl, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Mr. Jeff Andrews, Phi Sigma Epsilon. After the guests were escorted to the residence halls, they became both observing and active participants of the Maryville student body.

Two to eight students in each area high school are selected from their senior class. The selection basis is sometimes done by a secret committee or by recommendation of the respective high school counselors. The student visitor must be college material, and must have demonstrated traits of good citizenship. The students are guests of the college for their two-day stay. Transportation, food, and lodging are arranged by the Field Service office.

A busy schedule awaits each ambassador. Following the Thursday evening meal, a coke hour is held in the Bearcat Den. With the hosts and hostesses and volunteered assistance of the faculty, classes are selected. A tour of the Wells Library follows. Class visitations begin at 8 a. m. President Robert P. Foster meets informally with the students in each group to welcome them officially.

Complimentary tickets are provided for the guests to attend Friday night campus events. During their free time, the young people see the informal side of campus life. Popcorn and cokes or hamburgers accompany the "gab" or "bull" sessions.

Saturday mornings are reserved for visiting in administration offices. At mid-morning the somewhat tired, but inspired youths depart for their homes. Both college and high school students find this bridging link rewarding.

Plans Completed For Tower Event

Tower dance preparations are in final progress for the annual event scheduled for 8 to 12 p. m. tomorrow in the Union Ballroom.

Students will vote today from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. in the den to select the Tower queen from five finalists selected by the judges at a formal presentation last night.

The 12 candidates from which the five finalists were selected and their sponsoring organizations are: Kathy Abersold, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Phyllis Abersold, Alpha Kappa Lambda; Vicki Baker, Phi Mu; Connie Diehl, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Gail Emrick, Delta Zeta; Mary Beth McKinney, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Janice McRae, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Anne Morgan, Phi Sigma Epsilon; Marsha Mundt, Alpha Sigma Alpha;

Mary Potter, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Pat Schrader, Delta Zeta; and Terry Stitt, Phi Mu.

Decorations of black crepe paper, cobwebs, angel hair, and mod-colored butterflies will help portray the theme, "Cobweb of Linked Thought." Other plans include refreshments and dancing to the music of The Companions.

During the intermission the Tower queen will be crowned, facts about this year's annual will be revealed, and new members of Embers, women's honor society, will be tapped.

Tickets are now on sale at the Union office. The dance is sponsored by the Union Board.

Candidates were interviewed by a judges' panel Wednesday morning. A luncheon was held for the candidates Wednesday noon.

Faculty Men to Star In 'My Three Angels'

Several members of the MSC faculty will be appearing in a comedy, "My Three Angels," which will be presented arena style by the Nodaway Community Theater Mar. 7-9 and Mar. 14-16 in the American Legion Hall.

The play, written by Sam and Bella Spewack and based on "La Cuisine des Anges" by Albert Husson, takes place on Christmas Eve, 1910, in a family living room back of a general store in the hot tropical climate of French Guiana.

Dr. Charles E. Koerble, dean of students, will play the role of Jules, one of the three convicts, and Mr. David Kives, member of the Project Communicate staff, will appear as Alfred, another convict. The villain, Henri Trochard, will be enacted by Mr. George Hinshaw, assistant professor of speech. The lieutenant will be played by Mr. David Easterla, assistant professor of biology, the first three nights, and by Mr. Wayne VanZomerén, instructor of psychology, the second three nights.

The play will be the first one in Maryville to be presented by the newly organized Nodaway Community Theater, headed by Mrs. B. J. Alcott. It is being directed by Mr. Robert West, instructor in the MSC speech department.

Tickets will be available at the Maryville Public Library, the local banks, the Northwest Missourian office or from the Jaycee Wives.

Mr. West stated that all parts in future community theater productions will be open to college students.

Deep, Dark, Poisonous Plot

Three "fallen" seraphim, Ross Mongold, David Kives, Dr. Charles E. Koerble, in the comedy "My Three Angels" cautiously inspect the little black snake which they hope will help them eliminate a person they find objectionable. The scene is one of many tense, exciting moments in the community drama.

Dr. Wanda Walker Chosen For 'Who's Who' Recognition

Dr. Wanda Walker of the Education Department will be recognized by the editors of "Who's Who in America" in the sixth edition of "Who's Who of American Women."

Active in professional and civic affairs, Dr. Walker is presently president of the Methodist 50-50 Sunday school class; she is sponsor of the Student NEA and College Chapter director of the Delta Zeta Social Sorority.

A charter member of the Maryville - Albany - Tarkio chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary professional women teachers' organization, Dr. Walker is currently serving as chairman of its professional relations committee. She has also completed two terms as state adviser of the Missouri Student Education Association.

Dr. Walker has published two books, one in child psychology and another in philosophy. Also, among numerous magazine articles, she has formulated a Northwest Missouri State College Faculty Study entitled, "Juvenile Delinquency—A Psychological Problem."

A volunteer worker for the District War on Poverty, Dr. Walker is director of psychological services for Northwest Missouri. Recently she has undertaken the Head Start Center project in Maryville. Six additional Head Start Centers are being planned for the district under her direction.

Public speaking engagements are also included in Dr. Walker's well-filled schedule. She also holds membership in the NEA, MSTA, Northwest Missouri District Teachers, CTA, Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, and Lambda Tau.

The wife of Mr. E. C. Walker, director of the district Office of Economic Opportunity, Dr. Walker is the mother of three and a grandmother.

Plans Instituted For Honor Society

The English department is forming an English Honor Society. Interested persons met on Feb. 19 and 26, to work out and adopt a constitution to be presented to the Student Senate for approval.

Only English majors and minors are eligible to join this honor society. They must have compiled 20 hours of English courses and maintained a 3.3 average in them.

Although applicants are still being considered, present membership includes: Helen Duvall, president; Vicki Hanna, secretary; Linda Britt, Marilyn Rasmussen, Cheryl Horton, Anne Morgan, Nancy Pickett, Gail Wiederholt, Judy Holt, JoAnn Voyce, Connie Davis, and Mary Jane Smith.

Alpha Phi Omega Revises Plans For Spring Ugly Man Contest

Plans, including revision of rules, are being made for the annual Ugly Man Contest sponsored by the Beta Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega.

Festivities scheduled for the event are a carnival, a dance, and a variety show—all planned "to raise money for the student loan fund and to provide a little springtime outing for the students of MSC," according to Bill Watson, chairman of the APO UMOG committee.

Thursday night a meeting of organization representatives was held in order to establish regulations and to explain some of the innovations being implemented this year.

"This year Alpha Phi Omega is making every attempt possible to make the entire yearly event as equitable as possible. It will be our purpose to erase inconsistencies so that all campus organizations will be competing on an equal basis regardless of the size or monetary power of the participants," explained Watson.

If an MSC group would like to participate in this year's Ugly Man Contest, planned for Apr. 22 thru 26, its leaders should contact either Watson or Gary Dagley, 582-4050, for further information.

GDI Group Celebrates Birthday Anniversary

GDI celebrated its second birthday Feb. 22 by holding a smoker in the ballroom of the Student Union.

Since its founding, GDI has participated in two Homecomings and took honors in this year's festivities. Plans are now being made for a GDI pamphlet to inform interested students of purposes and goals. Other activities planned for the future include a bake sale, slave auction, art fair, and dance.

The deadline for new members is Mar. 4. Sponsors are Dr. Donald Armstrong and Mr. Wayne Van Zomeran.

Embers Cite Gayle Bradfield For Coed of the Month Honor

Gayle Bradfield, Kansas City, has been selected as Honorary Coed of the month by Embers, a senior women's honorary organization.

After completing her work in May for a BS degree in psychology-sociology, Miss Bradfield plans to obtain work in the personnel or social work fields. Her educational goal is to work for an MS degree in psychology or sociology in the near future.

Gayle Bradfield

An active member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority since she pledged in her freshman year, the honoree enthusiastically cites the advantages of Greek life. She has noted that it helps a woman grow in character, learn how to live with other women and teaches her to budget time. One main aspect of Greek life Miss Bradfield has appreciated is the way it has helped her become more resourceful and exchange her ideas more freely.

During the 1967 fall semester, Miss Bradfield served as president of Sigma Phi Dolphins. She is presently a member of the Union Board committee for Walk Out Day. She was a cheerleader during her freshman year and was a member of the Undergrads Jazz Group for two years.

The Embers honoree was chosen Miss Maryville in 1966 and was elected Homecoming Queen attendant last fall.

After she graduates, Miss Bradfield wants to travel in the states and abroad because she has not had the opportunity to do so in the past.

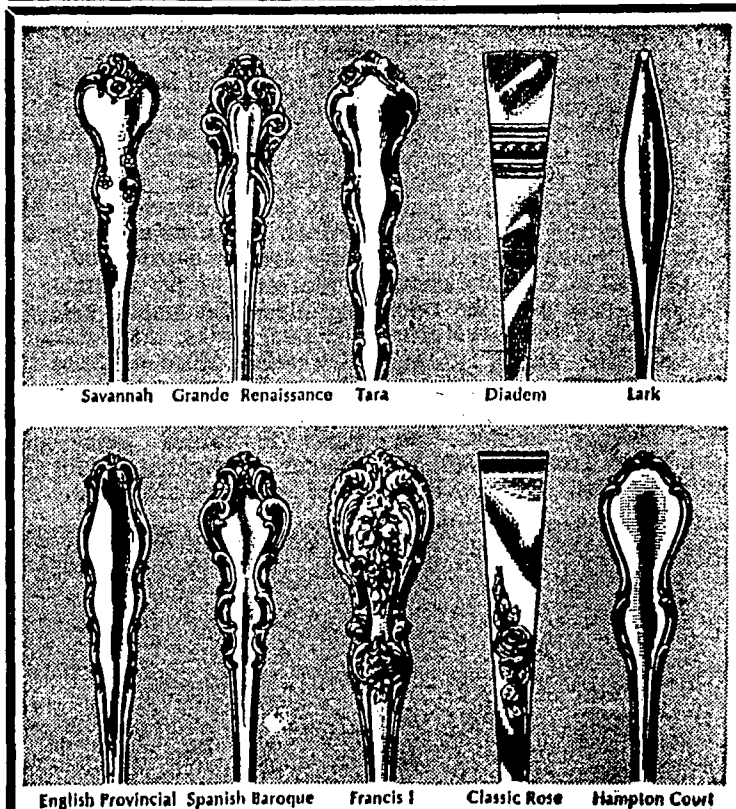

Sorority Has Banquet, Inducts New Members

Sigma Sigma Sigma initiated five members preceding a banquet Feb. 11 in the Union cafeteria.

Initiates are Diane Bergren, Red Oak; Sue Huff, Hopkins; Mary Lou Swaim, Grant City; Rachael Templeman, Atlantic; and Emily Wormsley, Kansas City.

Outstanding pledges were honored by Anne Morgan, president. Rachael Templeman was cited for the best essay; Diane Bergren, highest grade point, and Cindy Smith, best pledge.

Miss Neva Ross is adviser for the sorority.

Club Offers Faculty Membership

The role of the Veterans Club on campus is expected to increase in importance with the recent approval of faculty membership.

The Veterans Club is active in promoting several annual safety campaigns. One display, usually set up at the southeast entrance to the college during Homecoming, is aimed at making students more aware of the dangers of reckless driving.

In addition to this endeavor, the club also provides Homecoming brochures describing the parade, the game, and the opposing teams, along with data on MSC. Several social affairs are sponsored for members each year.

The club, which has approximately 30 members, continues to grow each year. With the opening of the rolls to faculty members, at least 10 new members are anticipated this semester.

Plan Session Drafted For Student Teachers

All upperclassmen planning to student teach this summer or next fall should come to a 4:15 p. m. meeting Mar. 5 in Horace Mann auditorium, according to Dr. Frank Grispino, director.

Discussion will cover requirements, completion of applications, possible location assignments, new policies of the department of student teaching, and answering any questions students may have.

Because of expansion, the department now has supervisors specializing in elementary and secondary education, and has "on call" subject matter these specialists use for specific problems.

This semester there are 341 student teachers in 25 centers located in southwest Iowa and northwest Missouri.

Deadline for returning application blanks for those student teaching this summer or next fall is 4 p. m. Mar. 18. No applications will be accepted after this date.

Public Invited to See 'This Strange Passion'

A man's search for love and freedom is the theme of "This Strange Passion," a Mexican movie to be shown at 7 p. m. Tuesday in Horace Mann Auditorium.

The Spanish dialogue film has English sub-titles, according to Miss Mary Jackson of the Spanish department, sponsor of the showing. It was produced by Oscar Dancigers and stars Arturo de Cordova and Delia Garcés.

Program notes of the World Cinema Series, National Film Theatre, Great Britain, state: "One of Bunuel's subtlest and most surprising works. On the surface, the story of a girl who marries a pathologically jealous man who eventually tries to kill her; beneath it a deeply probing analysis of the inward obsessions of a paranoid, of his distorted outlook on reality. The rich middle-class setting in which this is played out allows Bunuel to achieve some ironic, sometimes withering moments of social criticism. One sequence ... is among the most exciting things that Bunuel has ever done."

Foreign language students and other interested people are urged to see the film. No admission will be charged.

'Who's Who' Date Delayed 1 Week

Dr. Charles E. Koerble, dean of students, has announced that the deadline for entries to the Who's Who award has been extended until next week.

All applications must be submitted to the dean's office by the morning of Mar. 5. The blanks also may be secured from his office.

Selection of students for this honor is based upon the student's campus involvement, his leadership qualities, and his service to the college. The student's academic achievement, which must be verified by the registrar's signature, is also taken into consideration.

An application form may be secured by a candidate himself, by a fellow student, or through an instructor's recommendation.

MSC Blue Key Fraternity Recognizes Outstanding Men

Blue Key honorary fraternity is an organization comprised of MSC men students who have shown leadership abilities by their involvement in campus activities.

Affiliated with the Blue Key National fraternity the local organization has 10 members. To qualify for selection to Blue Key, a student must have an overall grade status above the MSC men's average, show leadership and service qualities, and be chosen by the present members of the group.

The primary function of Blue Key is to recognize outstanding accomplishments of men on campus each month.

New officers, chosen recently at the organization's monthly dinner meeting, are John Price, president; Bob Burrell, vice president; Steve Conner, secretary, and Barry Monaghan, treasurer. The fraternity meets every second Tuesday of each month in an informal meeting. Dr. Frank Grube is the group's sponsor.

The MSC chapter was organized and initiated in 1960. Mr. Jack Freese was president of the petitioning group and Dr. Grube was the original sponsor. Mr.

A number of alumni members are now on campus including Bob Dickey, Bob Cotter, and Jack Gray. Other alumni members who have been employed at MSC are Jim Holtz, Ralph Messerli, Bill Needels, Lee Weir, and Bob Cobb. Other present members include Ed Lambright, Jim Beemer, Tom Frank, Bob Foster III, Alan Pruitt, and Ken Bassett.

Taiwan Brothers Say:

Foods, Spicier; Requirements, Higher; Activities, Fewer; Grades, Harder in Asia

By Kathie Ebbrecht

How does an Asian student react to an American college situation?

In answer to this question, C. J. Chen, Taichung, Taiwan, have cooperated to give Missouri readers a first-hand report:

After attending classes in Taiwan, these brothers traveled to the United States to further their education and, at the same time, polish their English.

James Chen, majoring in English, studied for two years at the Taiwan Normal University. His brother, Robert, was graduated from Cheng-Kung University with a foreign language major. James, who has been here for two and one-half years, aspires to graduate this semester with a double major in mathematics and English.

Following graduation, he hopes to complete his doctoral degree in mathematics at Oklahoma University. Upon returning to Taiwan, he hopes to teach mathematics or pursue a career in mathematical research.

A newcomer to the states, Robert Chen is beginning his second semester as a chemistry major. After completing another year, he intends to transfer to attain a degree in chemistry and return to his homeland to teach.

When asked what reactions they felt after their arrival, both agreed that it was "quite a change." The differences they noticed ranged from school sports to types of food.

Most athletic activities in both countries are the same. In Taiwan, in place of football, soccer is substituted as the fall sport. Otherwise, student participation in groups is less common. The few social dances that they have are of a more formal type for special occasions. James added that in Taiwan there is not actually too much interest in student activities, not even in student government.

Individual activities there are more popular. Dating, as in most countries, is not an uncommon thing. Movie theaters are numerous in the larger cities. Because of the great expense in keeping automobiles, they are rarely seen on the Asian campus. Bicycles and motorcycles have become the Taiwan students' main mode of transportation.

In regard to the drinking of alcoholic beverages, James stated that no age limit has been set in his country; therefore, no required identification cards are necessary. "Very few students do drink," Robert commented, "but there again, it may be due to lack of interest."

Most students in Taiwan are too much absorbed in their studies to give time to outside activities. This may be a result of the requirement that students must take 20 hours each semester. Electives are non-existent. A person can major in only one field. All students in Taiwan attend college classes for four years regardless of the number of hours they have accumulated.

Parents support the students throughout the period of their education. During the summer months, college men serve in the army. Before a student is allowed in a university he must have completed one summer of military training. This training continues through the college years, the men reported.

High school seniors are administered a uniform examination throughout the country. Participants "choose an ambition" from a list of 20. Then, they are selected to attend a university on the basis of their grade average. Girls usually major in the arts; boys, in the science field.

In comparison to MSC's grading system, the Taiwan evaluation seems to be more strict. A score of 80 per cent or higher is an A; however, as James pointed out, few students scored that high because the tests are difficult. In Taiwan, examinations are given less frequently, with tests limited to two per semester, the mid-terms and the finals. If a student fails the final, he does not pass the course.

Robert prefers the grading system here over the Taiwan method. "Sure he likes it," chuckled James. "He gets all A's."

Among the problems they have encountered, the language and food are ranked foremost. During lectures, they find it is difficult to take notes because the professors talk so fast. Both have had experience teaching English in Taiwan high schools; however, speaking English in this country is an altogether different problem, they said.

Since rice and fresh vegetables are the main diet in Taiwan, the men complained of "stomach trouble" in adjusting to the American diet. They think it is odd that Americans serve hot and cold foods together. They commended the American for eating nutritious food. In Taiwan, they said, people select their foods according to taste, preferring more spicy foods rather than those rich in food elements.

THE STROLLER

Beautiful long hair, graciousness, faculty fun, challenging assignments, and Vietnam!

All these things are "Blowin' in the Wind" as March thrusts open the door and registers on campus.

Notably attractive are the long hair styles of Mary Lou Mullenax, Debbie Roush, Joan Duke, Dorothy Cook, Nancy Bush, and Janice Williams. Mary Lou's hair measures 33 inches. It has not been cut for 10 years.

Graciousness par excellence was demonstrated by Jennifer Heer during the Best Dressed Coed Contest.

A young lady with modeling experience, Miss Heer shared her knowledge of the profession with other entrants as they prepared to model latest fashions as part of the competition.

Delightful is the teacher who brings his sense of humor and contagious laugh into the classroom. Such a man is Mr. Virgil Albertini.

"Think of Bridget Bardot," he advised his American literature students, "and you will remember that Bridget Bishop was the first woman to be hanged as a witch in Salem."

Another of his witticisms: "Ben Franklin was a patron saint of savings accounts."

When Dr. Peter Jackson began talking about excess "pie" in his graphic arts class, alert students envisioned lemon meringue and deep-dish apple. Alas, Dr. Jackson meant "pi," the scrambled type which results when inexperienced fingers spill the type characters they so tediously have set by hand.

Wandering of the mind is a common student affliction. Sometimes the mind travels far.

Joe Zimmerman, resuming studies after duty in Vietnam, often finds himself wondering about the six-year-old Vietnamese child he befriended. He remembers the great poverty and undeveloped culture he saw in that war-torn land and feels gratified that he served there.

Claudia Cassity declares that girls in Franken Hall have heard enough fire alarms for a while.

An unknown gremlin sounded the alarm at 2:30 a. m. recently to drive the girls from their beds. The following morning it went off while workmen were testing it. Mrs. Coleda Hamilton, housemother, accidentally sounded it a few days later while instructing counselors in its use.

A test in contemporary drama and a paper due in American literature, added to daily study assignments, round out a full week for any student.

Connie Lowrance had all these last week plus preparations for her church wedding and reception Friday evening. She did make it to the church on time and is now Mrs. Cam Collins.

It fell Dr. Paul Henlein's lot to pose for a yearbook photographer's camera while members of his American history class watched. He turned back to teaching duties with the comment, "Now what was I doing before I got so publicity minded?"

Girls of First Front section, Hudson Hall, are still talking about their lovely surprise gift. Shirley Golden's Valentine date remembered all the girls with a specially created cake inscribed, "Happy Valentine's Day, First Front Hudson."

Driver Training Course Offered to Students

Any student who wishes to learn how to drive should contact Mr. Robert Gregory in his office, 105 Lamkin Gymnasium.

Classes will be worked out according to the individual's schedule in order that one or two hours' driving per week can be scheduled. Students who are taking advanced driver's education work will instruct the classes.

Theta Sigma Pi Society Initiated on MSC Campus

Theta Sigma Pi, a recently organized mathematics society, is an organization open to students in the fields of mathematics, chemistry, and physics.

To be a member, students must have completed one semester of calculus and have at least a 2 point cumulative grade average and a 2.5 average in mathematics.

One of the current projects the group is planning is the posting of difficult problems for members and others to solve. A thought-provoking program is planned for each meeting. At a recent meeting, Jack Longfellow performed an experiment entitled "Vectors in Action."

David Hardy, president of the organization, is assisted by Mary Lumm, vice president, and Dixie Belle Lightle, secretary-treasurer. Faculty advisers of Theta Sigma Pi include Mr. Marvin Gutzmer, Mr. George Barratt, and Mr. Clark Kimberling.

The organization meets the first Thursday of each month. The next meeting will be held at 7 p. m., Mar. 7 on the third floor of the Administration Building. At this meeting, Dr. Deniz Cooper will conduct a tour of the physics computer room and explain some of the mechanisms of these machines. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Phi Mu Fraternity to Observe 116th Anniversary Monday

The 116th anniversary of the founding of Phi Mu, national collegiate fraternity, will be observed Monday by the 99 collegiate chapters and nearly 200 alumnae organizations across the country.

Zeta Lambda Chapter at MSC will hold its celebration tea at 4 p. m. in the Chapter Room of Roberta Hall.

Phi Mu, a member of National Panhellenic Conference, was founded Mar. 4, 1852, at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga., the first institution in America to give college degrees to women. It is the second oldest college organization for women in the country and has 48,000 members. Its collegiate chapters are in colleges and universities from coast to coast, and its alumnae are organized as far away as Anchorage, Alaska, and Honolulu, Hawaii.

Support of the S. S. HOPE Hospital Ship is Phi Mu's national philanthropy.

Officers of the local chapter for the coming year are Cynthia Kreek, president; Connie Seuell, vice president; Kathie Maschke, recording secretary; Ellen Hamilton, corresponding secretary; Joyce Van Bebber, membership chairman; Cathy Pierce, treasurer; Vicki Baker, pledge director, and Betty Jo Fields, Panhellenic delegate.

TO SEE 'MACBETH'

The English and speech departments are sponsoring a bus trip to Omaha Mar. 9 to see "Macbeth."

All interested persons should contact one of the department chairmen, Dr. Frank Grube or Dr. Ralph Fulsom immediately. The bus will leave the east door of the Administration Building at 11 a. m.

Franken Hall Piano Arrives

A recent addition to the Franken Hall lounge is a Wuritzer piano. Financed through residence hall funds, it arrived from St. Joseph late last week.

Carolyn Hoffman is shown "tickling the ivories" while the housemother and residence Hall Council member gather round. They are Barb Shearer, Sandy Butler, Mrs. Coleda Hamilton, and Judy Pasternak.

Students May Participate In Presentation of Cantata

Students have been invited to unite with the Nodaway Arts Council and the Maryville Ministerial Alliance in presenting a community-wide Lenten Service on Good Friday, Apr. 12, in the Charles Johnson Theater.

The performance will have orchestral accompaniment, with Dr. Donald Sandford of the music department directing instrumentalists from the MSC faculty, Tarkio College, and the St. Joseph Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. Robert Govier, assistant professor of German, will direct the performance, and his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Govier, accompanist for the newly organized Nodaway Community Chorus, will be the accompanist.

Designs Centennial Motif

Now the acting head of the art department at Southwestern Community College, Creston, Iowa, Dorothy J. Graham, '40, has designed a tentative "Crestennial" seal for the Creston centennial in 1969. Her idea was submitted with the hope that others will sketch their own designs, one of which will be chosen as the official seal for the event.

Her most recent degree is an MA-TC from Columbia University, New York.

Rehearsals will be held in the sanctuary of The First Christian Church starting at 4 p. m. Sunday. All students who are interested in singing with the group are cordially invited to attend the first rehearsal.

Phoenix to Head Young Democrats

John Phoenix, current Young Democrats president, was elected district chairman of MISL at the Convention of the Second District of the Missouri Intercollegiate State Legislature Sunday.

Linda Bromig was appointed District secretary.

President Robert P. Foster opened the session by urging students to be aware of and support governmental legislation. He stressed the forming of habits that produce an enlightened public. He asked that logical, unemotional, and objective conclusions be reached in order to destroy apathy. Both Missouri Republican Representative H. F. Holland, Sheridan, and Democratic Representative Harden Cox, Rock Port, spoke of voter apathy, the right to dissent, and the responsibilities that accompany criticism.

Representative Cox emphasized, "Politics is the one thing we need to get interested in more than anything else in this country."

Keep Receiver Tuned to Transmitter

Although many features differentiate man from other creatures inhabiting the earth, perhaps the most unique and notable is his ability to communicate with his fellows — both orally and through the written word.

We take this great gift for granted, with the possible exceptions in mentally disturbed or brain damaged persons. Even though there is no universal language, the peoples of the world are able to communicate with one another.

Despite this communicative ability the future of the world's races is clouded with crisis, often the result of misunderstanding or misinterpreting the meanings which others are trying to convey.

In an institution of higher learning, such as Northwest Missouri State, one would expect to find communicative skills being used to their fullest — not only in the classroom but also at all levels of college activity.

Movie Excitement: 'Bonnie and Clyde'

In the never-ending flow of movies from America's film capital, there occasionally appears a movie that causes more than a little excitement and repercussion throughout the country. Such is the case with the movie, "Bonnie and Clyde."

The movie is based on the adventure of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, a couple who made the list of colorful figures of the gangland era while killing and plundering for fun and profit. Bonnie is played by Faye Dunaway, and Clyde is portrayed by Warren Beatty, also the film's producer.

Unquestionably, "Bonnie and Clyde" is one of the best examples of that box-office draw, — violence. Blending horror and humor, it draws the audience in sympathy toward its anti-heroes.

Most importantly, however, the movie shows the trend of United States movie-makers who take once-shocking and overly-vulgar themes and treat them with maturity, something unheard of five years ago.

The movie's trend-setting is not confined to the cinema. Miss Dunaway now parades in and out of the fashion world displaying her 30's-style dresses.

As "Bonnie and Clyde" makes its way across the country, it will shock audiences with its horror and splashing blood, cause movie critics to battle among themselves, and bring fashion designers to copy its costumes.

Union Board Schedules 'Causeless Generation'

"Generation Without a Cause," another in the series of Topics of Our Time, will be presented by the Union Board at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the Union East Ballroom.

The 60-minute film reveals today's college students in a search for values within the world. This film is recommended for young adults as a possible way to discover an insight into the encompassing inner struggle.

Stan Wright and Jim Gay are co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the event.

But even in the college milieu, where one of the prime objectives is to develop communicative skill in young people, we find this gift often abused, or totally neglected.

One example of this communications gap occurred last Sunday. Two prominent members of the Missouri legislature appeared on the MSC campus at the invitation of student political groups. To the chagrin of several college officials, who also attended the meeting, only a handful of students turned out to make the distinguished guests welcome.

Hopefully, lack of communication between the student groups and student body in general resulted in the pitiful size of the gathering. We say "hopefully," only because we hope student apathy has not slipped to the point where MSC's students are uninterested in what these men, who devote much of their time and effort to upgrade education, have to say!

It should be noted that campus news media were not informed of the visit, perhaps an oversight, but certainly an unfortunate one. The purpose of these media is to inform, as accurately as possible, the activities which make MSC live.

It should also be noted that even when notified, sometimes the news media err. Perhaps it is human to err, but it's a far better policy to get things straight the first time.

Communicative errors on the college campus may seem trivial, but in such a situation students should learn to communicate skillfully, reducing

Renowned Guitarist To Perform Monday

Carlos Montoya, renowned flamenco guitarist, will perform at 8 p. m. Monday in the Charles Johnson Theater.

Students Are Urged to Use Aid of Field Service Office

Have a question about public events concerning our campus? Want to hold a social or club function? The Field Service office is your answer.

Our Field Service is our link between the MSC and the public. Mr. Everett W. Brown is the director of the activities in this area. Under the guidance of Mr. John Ed. Fuhrman, assistant director, the High School Ambassador program is now under way. This program presents a college weekend experience to selected high school students.

The office handles publicity for various events under the direction of Mr. Jack Gray. The director of alumni is Mr. Bob Cotter. Mrs. Esther Sellers is the assistant director of employment placement. Visitation groups can be arranged with the aid of this office. College counselors serve as a valuable aid to prospective Maryville students. In May, 1968, plans for the college day and night events will be made for area high schools.

Extension and correspondence courses are arranged by this office. All speaking engagements by foreign students their errors to a minimum.

In the future, why don't we all try to put forth a little more effort in communicating. All that is really required for successful communication is a simple, accurate speaker or writer at one end and an equally observant and accurate listener at the other.

Nobel Prize-winning novelist Thomas Mann once intoned, "Speech is civilization itself. The word, even the most contradictory word, preserves contact — it is silence which isolates."

Mr. Mann had to be an effective communicator to merit the Nobel Prize for literature. His success obviously wasn't accidental. You won't receive a Nobel Prize every time you communicate successfully, but if you make a habit of it, chances are you will lead a more rewarding life as a result.

The next time you "communicate," try NOT taking it for granted that your transmitter is on the same channel as the receiver you are trying to enlighten.

Memorial Publications Given to MSC

The mathematics department and Wells Library recently received books from the libraries of two deceased MSC faculty members, Mrs. Harry E. Sheetz and Dr. W. A. Lafferty.

The heirs of the Harry E. Sheets estate have donated more than 300 volumes to the Wells Library, according to Mr. James Johnson, head librarian.

The books, largely English literature, were a part of Mrs. Lula M. Sheetz's private library. Mrs. Sheetz was a member of the English faculty at MSC at the time of her death in February, 1966.

Mrs. Lafferty has presented an extensive collection of her late husband's mathematics, science, and psychology books to MSC.

Dr. Lafferty, who died in October, 1966, was for 19 years are made through Field Service.

This helpful office is located on the second floor in the Administration building for the benefit and service of all faculty and students. For further insight into the varied activities in Field Service, why not pay the office a visit?

Theater Goers Invited To See Moliere Comedy

Tickets may be ordered by contacting the Alliance Francaise, Box 5880, Kansas City. Mr. Channing Horner of the French department will take a few of those interested; others will have to secure their own transportation.

The play is full of fun, characterization, criticism, and Moliere's comments on his valuation of life, with each point depicted being another pleasure for the audience.

Problem: SDS at MSC?

A group of students who have similar ideas want to have meetings in some centrally located place on campus.

They learn that to have meetings in college facilities an organization must receive recognition and approval from the Student Senate.

At this point the controversy comes: The proposed organization is not the regular student group interested in new ideas in their major field or looking for the ordinary outlet for built-up pressure.

For some reason, the Student Senate reacts differently to this group of students. They question the need of such an organization. They evaluate and re-evaluate the proposed constitution. They weigh the reaction to their decision by members of the administration. They wonder what the club will do at MSC.

This special student group that causes so much Senate involvement is the Students for a Democratic Society. SDS is a national student organization which has received much publicity, pro and con. Some think that it could be the organization that may be responsible for that new term, Student Power.

And now to the problem at hand. Should an organization with a national reputation sprinkled with militancy and alleged communism be allowed to have a local organization here? Will there be sit-ins in the Den and peace marches in front of the Administration Building? Or, will there be an organization on campus to present to the students different views on national questions? Does MSC need such an organization?

What do you think?

Bearcat Tankers Lose To MIAA Champions

An eager MSC swimming team travelled to Warrensburg last weekend with high hopes for an MIAA conference title, but met an equally earnest troupe of Central Missouri

Randy Hansen

State tankers who were not to be outdone in their home pool.

Competing also against the stiff competition of Springfield and Cape Girardeau, the Bearcats performed well while witnessing eight conference records fall to the defending champion, Central State.

When it was all over, one could glance at the score and see that it was obviously a CMSC day. "They just ran away with it," Coach Dyche remarked.

That they did, amassing a staggering 91 points to runner-up Springfield's 41, Maryville's 32, and Cape Girardeau's 19. The battle for second place, however, wasn't sewed up until late in the meet.

On the bright side, junior Randy Hansen came within

O'Rourke Signs Football Contract

Tim O'Rourke, an MSC senior from Saddle Brook, N. J., recently signed a football contract with the Kansas City Chiefs.

An offensive center, O'Rourke has played football at MSC for four years. He is a three-year letterman and was a member of the All-Conference team this past season. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

The MSC star will graduate in May with a BS degree in education and will report to Kansas City for training camp in July. He intends to spend the early summer training on his own.

O'Rourke also received offers from the Cleveland Browns and the New York Giants. He chose the Chiefs because he felt they offered him the best opportunity.

The Chiefs were the American Football League champions in 1966. They were also the first AFL team to be represented in the Super Bowl.

Although he had considered teaching as his career, O'Rourke admitted that he would like to play professional football if he can "make it."

one-tenth of a second of tying the conference record of :23.2 in the 50-yard freestyle preliminary and went on to win in the finals with a blistering :23.4. He also placed third in the 500-yard freestyle, and competed in both the medley (second, place) and freestyle (third place) team relays.

Ron Harris, captain, placed second in both the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke, and swam in the medley relay.

Mark Thomas nailed down third in the 100- and 200-yard backstroke. Steve Conner gained a third place in the 100-yard butterfly, and Jerry Peirce placed fourth in the 100-yard freestyle.

"Overall, it was a good meet," Coach Dyche said. "Warrensburg and Springfield looked much stronger than last year, but I thought we performed reasonably well."

Maryville finished the season with a 3-4 dual record, but with all but one swimmer returning next season, the future looks bright.

MSC Grapplers Drop Final Mat Battle

The injury-riddled MSC wrestlers closed their dual-match season on a losing note, bowing 19-15 to Omaha, Nebraska, University, last weekend.

Wayne Garcia, 130; Paul Stehman, 137, and Al Borkowski, heavyweight, were the only MSC wrestlers to register wins for the Bearcats.

Garcia took a 9-6 decision away from Bill Elias to tie the match at 3-3 after Omaha's Curlee Alexander had opened the match with a 6-0 win over Tom Dawson, 123.

Stehman followed by pinning Tom Ruffino in 3:30 to put the 'Cats out in front 8-3. Borkowski made the final tally for the Bearcats by pinning Mel Melcher in 2:15.

Stan Zeamer, wrestling out of his class at 145, was the only other Bearcat not defeated. Zeamer was held to a 3-3 draw by Ron Gbler. The meet loss dropped the Bearcats' dual record to 7-3.

MIAA and NCAA tournaments are all that remain on the 'Cats' mat schedule. The wrestlers will be trying for their third straight MIAA title Saturday at Southeast Missouri, Cape Girardeau.

The Bearcats will enter NCAA competition Mar. 9 at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. The MSC squad placed 11th in the national competition last season.

Gymnastics Club Sets Membership Deadline

New members of the Gymnastics Club will be accepted at 6:30 p. m., Thursday in the Martindale Gym.

This will be the final date for joining this spring. Dues for each semester are 50 cents.

Mrs. Janet Moss is the Gymnastics Club sponsor.

Bearcats Defeat Graceland College

Sophomore Ken Shaw led the MSC Bearcat thinclads as they defeated Graceland in an abbreviated dual meet here Saturday.

The victory extended the home team's winning streak to 12 in dual competition. Competition was limited because Graceland did not have entries for every event.

Pete Hager won the 40-yard dash with a time of 4.6 seconds. One of the top performances in high jump competition was turned in by Gary Howren, with a jump of 6-2½.

The MSC track team will travel to Omaha University for another dual meet next Friday.

'Cat's Eye-View

Norris A. Patterson is retiring after 18 years as football coach at William Jewell College to become full-time director of athletics and physical education. He has held both jobs since 1950.

James A. Nelson, basketball coach, will become football coach and John Hickman will become basketball coach. For MSC this will mean new coaching competition.

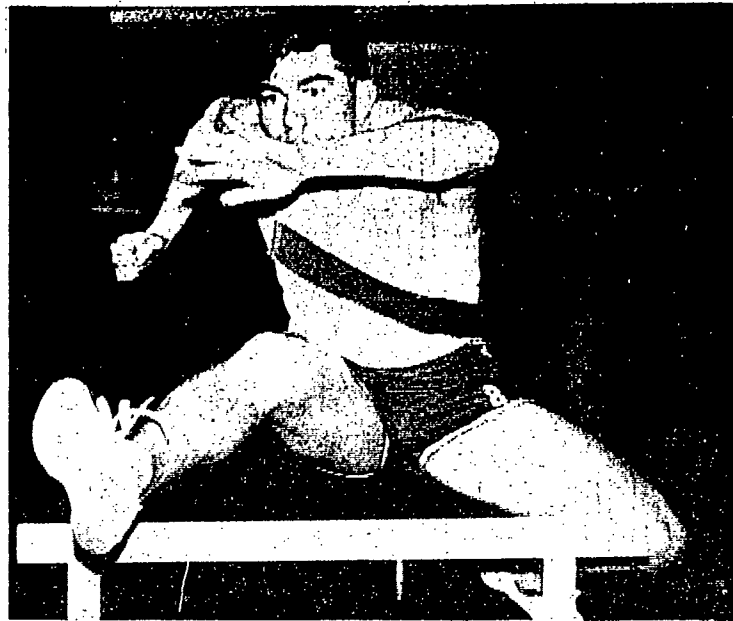

Patterson recently was inducted into the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame.

In 18 years, his teams won 131 games while losing 34 and tying 8, and appeared in three bowl games where they were 1-1-1.

Strange things are happening all over the world, and Big Eight basketball competition is no exception.

Kansas State University, sparked by Nick Pino's 20 points, defeated Kansas University last Saturday night before a capacity crowd of 17,000 people in Allen Fieldhouse, Lawrence.

The victory created a three-way tie for first place with Kansas, Kansas State, and Ken Shaw, MSC sophomore from Independence, shows the form that netted him a pair of first-place finishes in the hurdle events at Saturday's indoor track opener for the Bearcats. Shaw won the 40-yard lows in :05:2 and the 40-yard highs in :05:5 seconds.

Iowa State University each having 7-3 records. This was the first time since 1964 that Kansas State had defeated Kansas twice in one season. Coach Tex Winter termed it "one of the greatest days" in Kansas State's long and glorious basketball career.

It has been brought to the 'Cat's attention, that Larry Maiorano was the number one golfer on the MSC team last year. He is a two-letterman in golf.

In last week's Missourian, Larry's record was inadvertently left out of the golfing article.
